

Sheldon Snail's Sunbathing Session!

by Pete Wells

Summertime is here again
Hello sunshine, goodbye rain!
On a day that made the thermometer swell,
Sheldon Snail popped out of his shell

Display sun, place heat pads in hands, encourage learners to explore shells.

"I'm off to the beach" came his tiny yell
"To get a tan upon my shell!
Before I go, I'll have to pack!"
He said putting his bag upon his back

Feel a rucksack / bag

Sheldon's Den

He's got sensitive eyes (and likes to watch the lasses)
So he has to pack his dark sunglasses

Place sunglasses on student

A hip young snail would never go
To the beach without his radio

Turn on the radio

And Sheldon's lovely mum had made
Some tasty, fizzy lemonade

Give your students lemonade to taste or smell

'If I get burnt, Mum will start a commotion
I'd best remember my suntan lotion

Smell suncream and rub on arms or legs

So he's packed everything what a clever snail Slowly he sets off leaving a slimy trail

Feel the gloop

At snail's pace he travels, but the beach is near That's the sound of seagulls he can hear!

Listen to the sound of seagulls

To the beach.

He dawdles along, slowly across the land
Then under his foot he feels hot sand

Place sand in bowls, students to feel with hands or feet

He dawdles along, slowly across the land
Then under his foot he feels hot sand

Spray water to side of student, then spray lightly onto them

But when he finally made it, poor Sheldon gave a shout
'Cos the sun had gone in and the moon was out!

Turn out the lights or cover students with a blanket.
