

TODAY
is the day
to LEARN Something NEW

Find a selection of ideas and links to help you learn something new today or have a go at something that isn't on this list, but that you have always wanted to try!

Don't forget to fill out the grid to show what you have learnt and how you felt about it so you can keep a record of all the new things you are trying. You can either print it or type into the boxes – up to you!

Learn Something New – Wellbeing

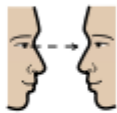

Looking after your wellbeing is really important all of the time, but especially at the moment when life is not as it used to be. Have a go at the activities below that will help you to stay calm and mentally happy. Which ones do you like the best? Remember that these are activities you could do all of the time, not just during this 'lesson'.

1
1. Well-being activity: Feel good music.

Make a playlist of your favourite music.

Spend some time listening to or dancing to one of your feel good favourites.

2
2. Well-being activity: Contact with others.

Keep in contact with someone you can't see face to face.

Use phone, Skype, WhatsApp or E-Mail to contact a friend or relative.

3

3. Well-being activity: Be kind.

Make a list of kind things you could do for someone else.

Ideas: tidy your room, wash up, draw a picture, have a chat...

4

4. Well-being activity: Share an activity.

Watch a film with someone you live with.

Chat afterwards about the film: the characters, the story, did you enjoy it?

Learn Something New – Origami

A free website with lots of different things to make using the art of origami. The website is set out starting with easier designs and moves on to more complicated ones. There are plenty of other websites that give instructions too if you find this is something you really enjoy doing, and even some videos on YouTube.

Learn Something New – a different language

A free website that has lots of units to learn a new language. Whilst we are not expecting students to work all the way through into higher levels (although they can if they want!), this is a good platform for learning a few simple phrases and greetings to start with. Students can either pick one language and learn lots, or pick a few different languages and learn how to say the same few phrases in lots of different ways – completely up to you!
